University of South Alabama Human Resources Supervisor Checklist for New Employees

This optional checklist has been designed to assist you in helping new employees get acquainted with the department. It can serve as a tool for communicating relevant department-specific practices, procedures, position responsibilities/expectations, and other essential information.

Reminder:

In accordance with the federal law, all newly hired employees are not allowed to begin work on the first day of employment unless they complete Section I of the I-9 form. New employees have up to three business days to provide the required I-9 documentation as mandated for Section II of the I-9 form.

busines	ss days to provide the required I-9 documentat	ion as r	mandated for Section II of the I-9 form.
Welco	me
	Tour of department		Department practices/procedures
	Introduce co-workers		Department missions/goals
	Location of restroom/break area		Department calendar
	Explain building security (keys/ID badges)		Department organizational structure
	Procedure for ordering supplies		Department service philosophy
	Telephone procedures		Department meetings and events
	Department phone list		Department bulletin board (if applicable)
	Parking procedures (USA Parking Permit procedures, if applicable)		Department exit/evacuation plan
Emplo	yee's Position
	Job description/responsibilities		Department vacation procedures
	Job goals/objectives/projects		Salary rate/grade
	Work hours/breaks		Department mailing address
	Call in procedures (sick, emergencies, etc)		Communication of University closings (weather and other emergencies)
	Essential department personnel during emergencies (if applicable)		Use of and policies for computer systems and telephone (e-mail, internet, cellphone, and social media)
Safety	/Environmental
	Department safety/environmental issues		Department maintenance/potential hazard concerns
	University Emergency Response Plan		Procedures for reporting on-the-job injuries
Emplo	yee's Career Development
	Probationary period/performance evaluation		Professional associations (if applicable)
	Training opportunities		